Quina is a new classic word game. Similar to Wordle, your goal is to discover the 5-letter codeword by guessing your own word. You can handicap your word by guessing a word with a handicap of 1.0, which is a form of handicap used in sports betting, especially in football. It is called "European handicap" because it is more popular in Europe. The handicap contrasts with the Asian handicap. In a 1.0 handicap, one team starts with a 1-goal advantage before the game begins. This means that team receives an additional goal in their score. If you bet on that team, they must win the game or lose by only one goal for your bet to be successful. If the team wins by two or more goals, your bet is successful. If the team wins by one goal, your bet is a draw. If the team loses by one goal or more, your bet is a loss.

On the other hand, if you bet on the underdog, they can win the game by only one goal and still your bet is successful. If the team wins the game or draws, your bet is successful. If the team loses by one goal or more, your bet is a loss. In summary, in a 1.0 handicap, the favorite team must win by two or more goals for your bet to be successful, while the underdog team can win by one goal and your bet is still successful.

In conclusion, in a 1.0 handicap, the favorite team must win by two or more goals for your bet to be successful, while the underdog team can win by one goal and your bet is still successful.
