Odds are a way of describing the probability of a certain event occurring. They are often used in betting and gambling. Odds can be expressed in several ways, including as a ratio, a fraction, or a decimal. For example, odds of 6:1 mean that for every 6 units you bet, you will win 1 unit if the event occurs.

Table 2x2 and Odds: A 2x2 table is often used to compare the odds of two groups. The table shows the number of events in each group and the total number of events. The odds are calculated by dividing the number of events in one group by the number of events in the other group.
